The claim is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as the claimed invention is not described in such full, clear, concise and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to make and use the same.

The claim is the nonenabling because: the exact appearance and details of the design cannot be understood due to the poor quality of the drawing. The lines are rough and sketchy and it is unclear what is a surface pattern or what is line shading. Clarification is required.

The claim is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Because the claim is nonenabling, as set out in the previous rejection, it is also indefinite for the same reasons. The appearance and details of the article cannot be readily understood and again clarification is necessary.

The drawing is objected to. The charcoal or pencil prints of the views are improper under 37 CFR 1.152. There are also areas of solid black shading which is unacceptable. The drawing views must be redrawn in black ink and any shading that is applied must be either line shading or stipple shading. The appearance and details of the drawing must be readily understood. Also, there appears to be a grid pattern underneath the article in all of the views. This should be removed. There should be nothing in the views except the article itself. Correction of the drawing is required.

Any attempt to correct or clarify the appearance and details of the design in order to overcome the rejections must avoid the introduction of new matter. 35 USC 132. 37 CFR 1.121. New matter is information not supported by the application as originally filed.

Application/Control Number: 29/167,738
Art Unit: 2914

In an attempt to overcome the rejections, applicant may submit large clear photographs showing all details of the design, or in the alternative pen and ink drawings may be submitted clearly showing all details and the complete appearance of the design for the examiner's review. Formal ink drawings or photographs should not be submitted until a determination is made that the rejection can be overcome without the introduction of new matter.

For consistency, the title should be amended throughout the application, original oath or declaration excepted, to read:

Magazine Surround.

The specification is objected to. The "Preamble", the paragraph following, and the "Specification" designator should be canceled. Also, the "Cross Reference To Related Applications ; none" must be canceled as well as the "Statement Regarding Federally Sponsored Research: none" and the "Drawing Figures" designator should be canceled.

The special description in the specification which describes variations and modifications of the design which are not shown in the drawings is not permitted, MPEP '1503.01.

Furthermore, in the decision of Racing Strollers Inc. v TRI Industries, 11 USPQ2d 1300, (Fed. Cir. 1989), the court held that "... the 'best mode' requirement of the first paragraph of '112 is not applicable, as a design has only one 'mode' and it can be described only by illustrations showing what it looks like (though some added description in words may be useful to explain the illustrations. The special descriptions describing the bottom of the article not shown should be canceled.

The references are cited as pertinent but are not applied.

Art Unit: 2914

The claim stands rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first and second paragraphs, for the reasons given.
